Dedication

The 1977-1978 Redskin is dedicated to spirit and to a teacher with spirit. Jonathan Edwards says a man of a right spirit is not a man of narrow and private views, but is greatly interested and concerned for the good of the community to which he belongs, and particularly of the city or village in which he resides and for the true welfare of the society of which he is a member. This teacher is such a man spending many long hours helping students to become the best persons they can possibly be. Always concerned with the game of life, this teacher gives 110% of both his talent and, more precious, his time. The 1977-1978 Redskin is dedicated to spirit and to Coach Clarence Holman.

The 1977 yearbook is dedicated to Mrs. Ruth Miller !!!

Spir^t it 1. to encourage, urge (on), stire (up), as to action. 2. to Infuse with energy, ardor, or life. 3. vigorous sense of membership in a group. 4. Spirit at Van-Far is like the wind, no one knows where it comes from or where it goes, and like the wind rustling the leaves of a tree so does spirit motivate both students and teachers.

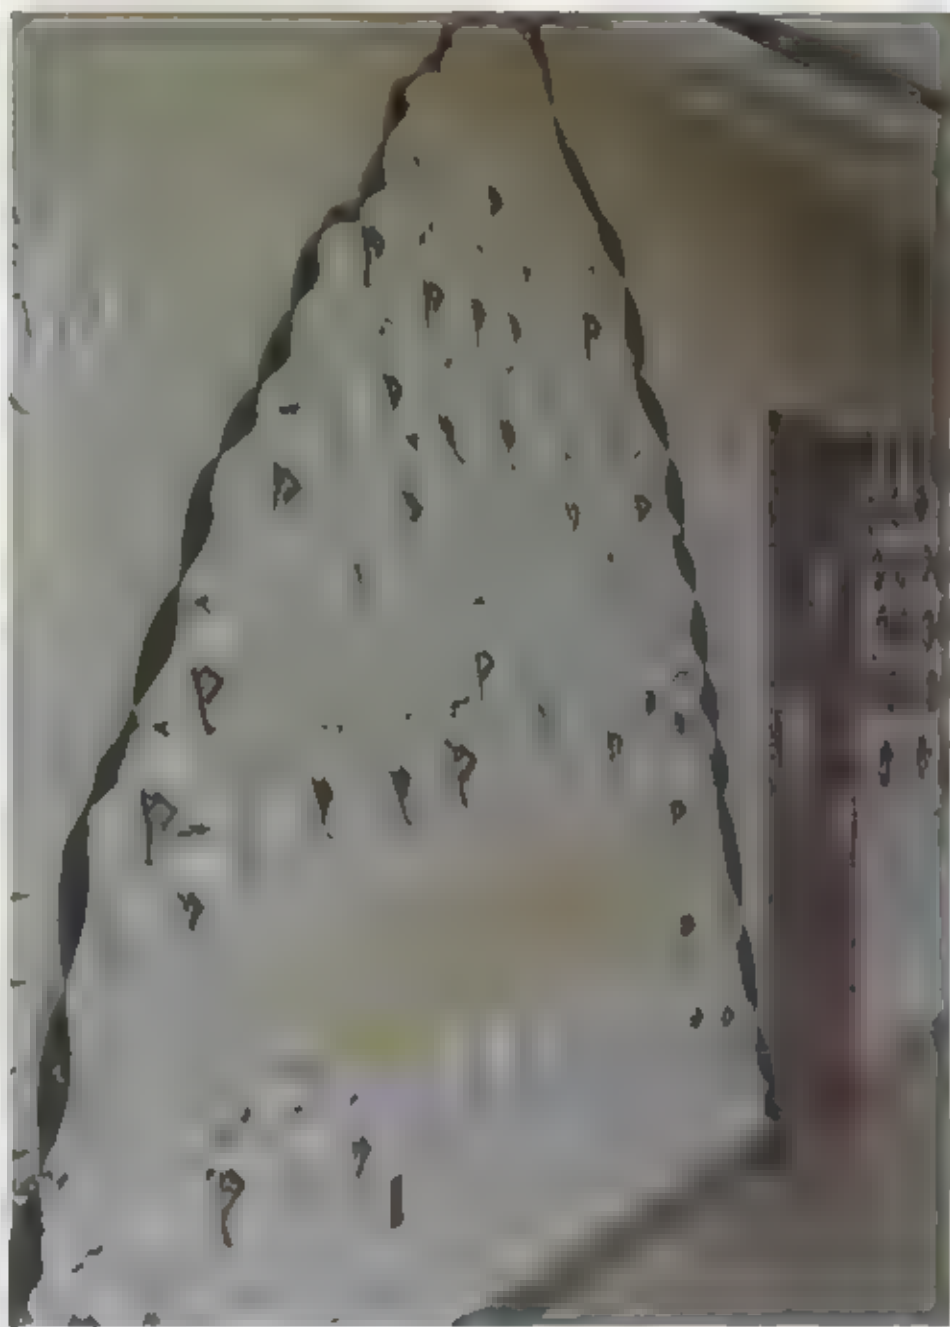

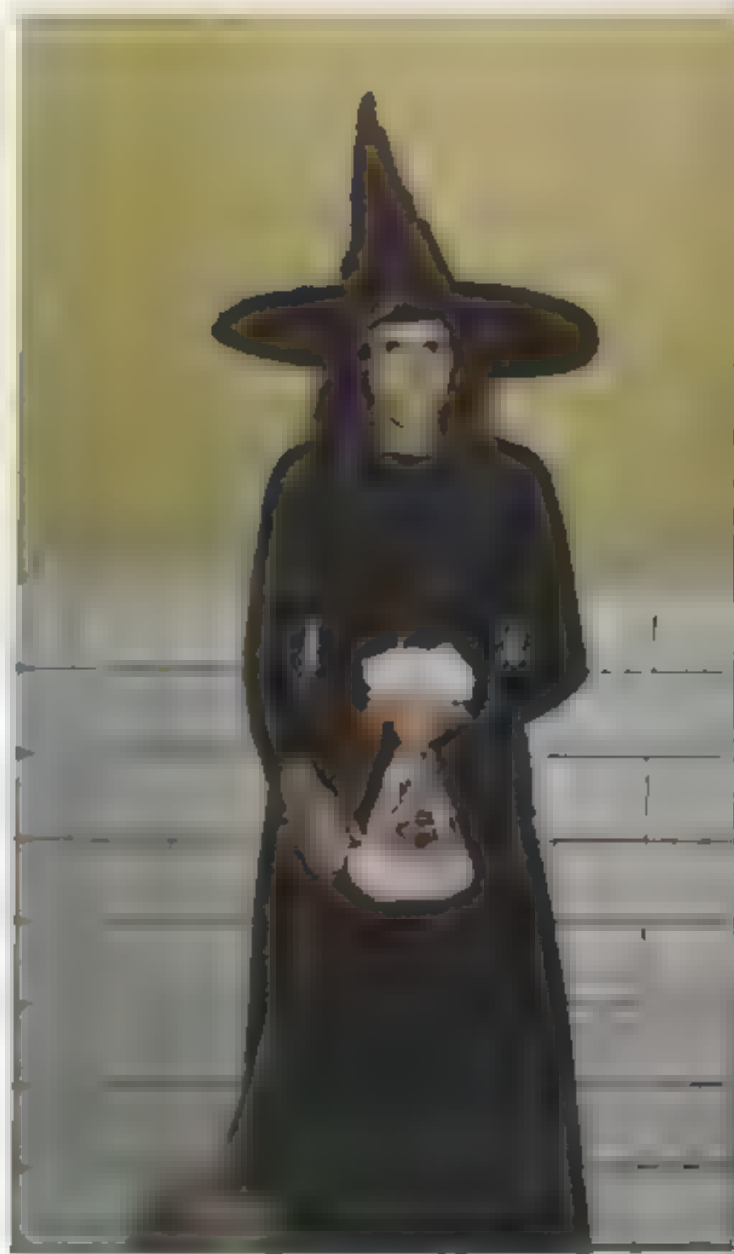

Spirit is a vital part of any school. A school without spirit is like a person without a soul, for spirit is the very life and breath of school. And what is this spirit that is so important? It's people. It's the people of the community, the people who teach us, and it all starts with the people who learn: the students themselves. A student with spirit takes all he can from life; all the learning, the experience, and fun that are his for the taking at school.

There is spirit at Van-Far, but spirit is not something you can take for granted. It's a feeling that has to be created over and over again. The class of '78 leaves to all upcoming classes their school spirit — challenging them to improve upon it and let it grow.

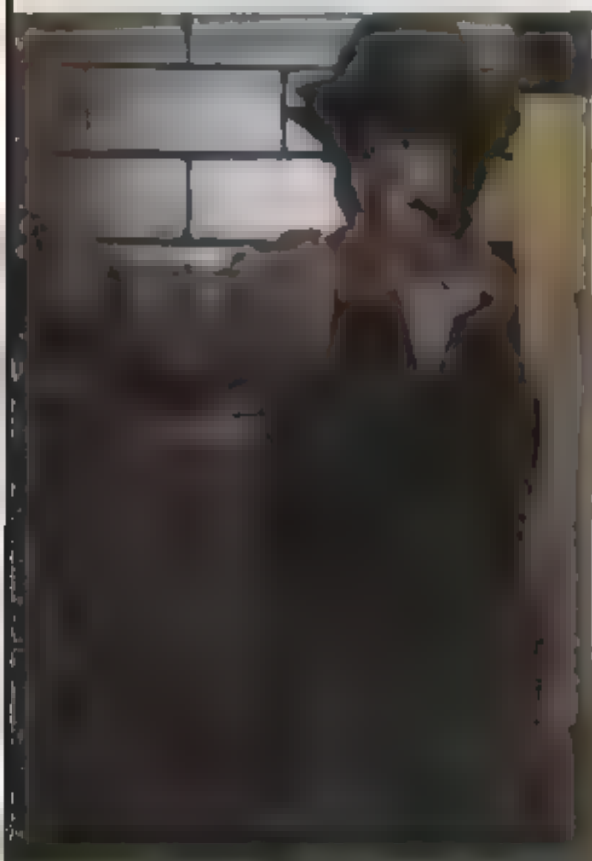

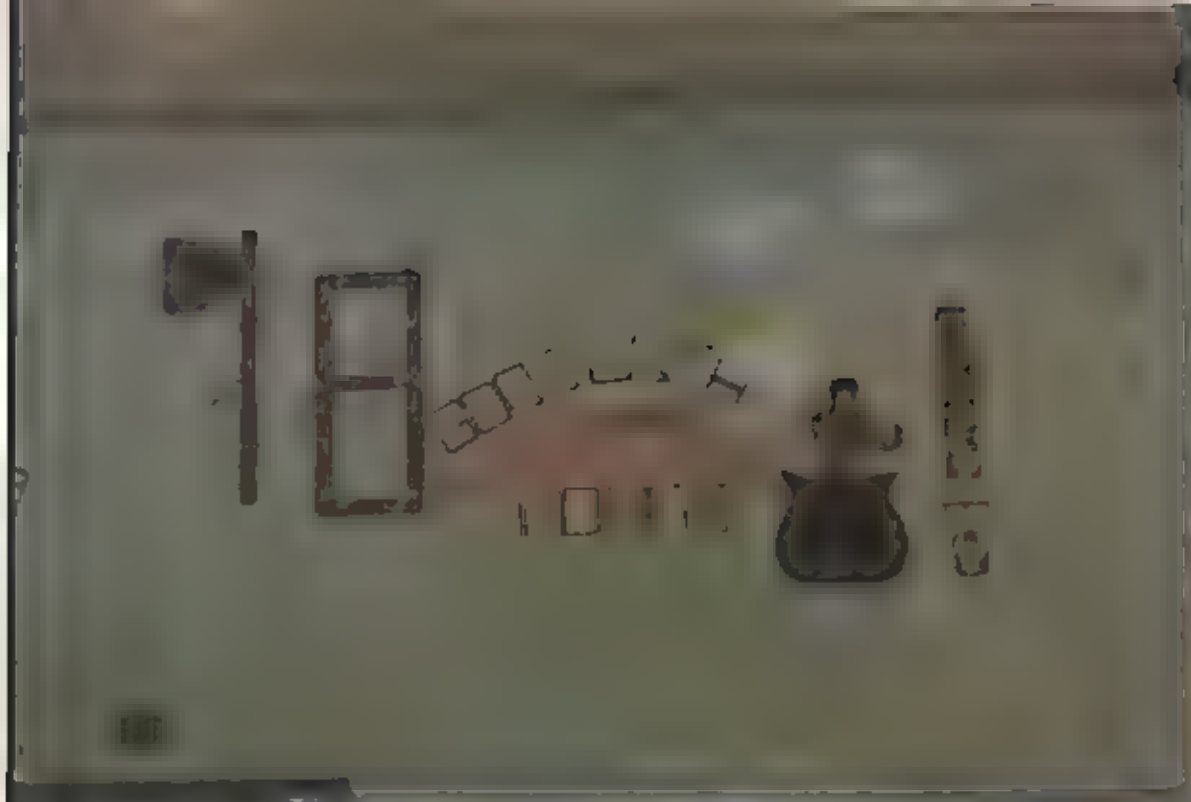

Redskin Queen

Beauty and spirit go hand in hand. This year the Redskin Queen was judged by Mr. Richard Harvey, Dean of Patricia Stevens Career College. Mr. Harvey himself is a photographer and works with the modeling department of the college.

1. Redskin Queen Lisa Kohl. 2. Kathy Williams, Sophomore candidate. 3. Donna Morris, Senior candidate. 4. Jill Tipton, Freshman candidate.

Spirit At An

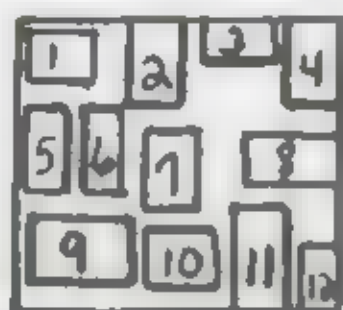

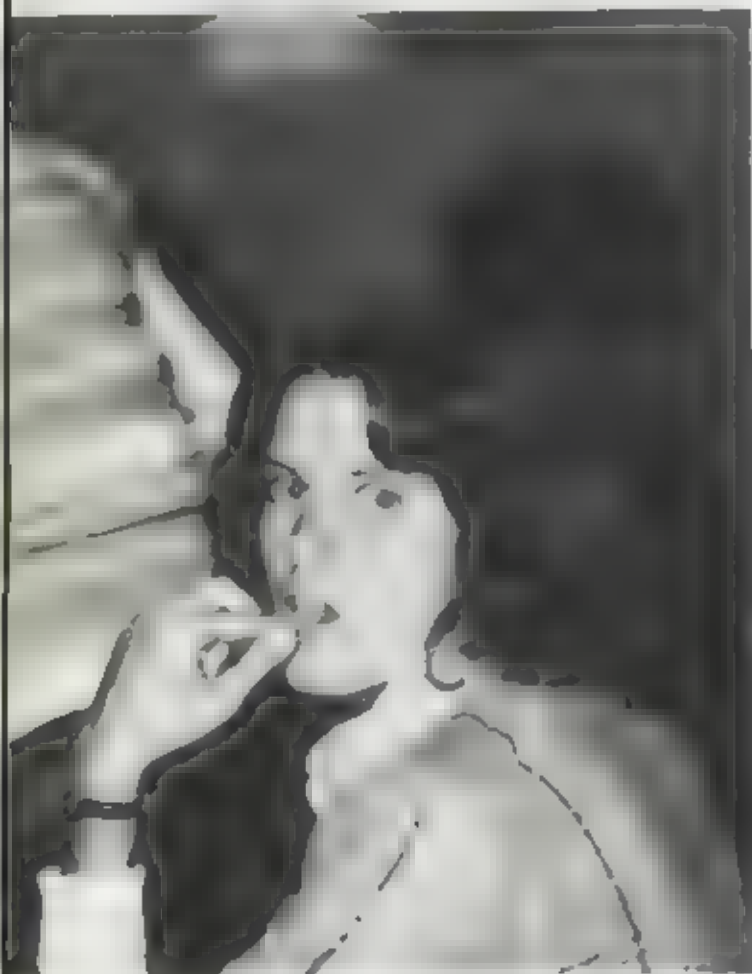

This year's homecoming included activities for all. Students were busy decorating the floats, halls, and walls. A small opening assembly followed by the kick-off and student-teacher football game started the week with a boom. The mini olympics, powder puff football, bonfire, and closing assemblies boosted spirits to an all time high. Throughout the week the students dressed as cowboys and Indians, boys as girls, girls as boys, or according to the theme of the day. Homecoming was a success despite the rain and loss of the game.

Alumni School

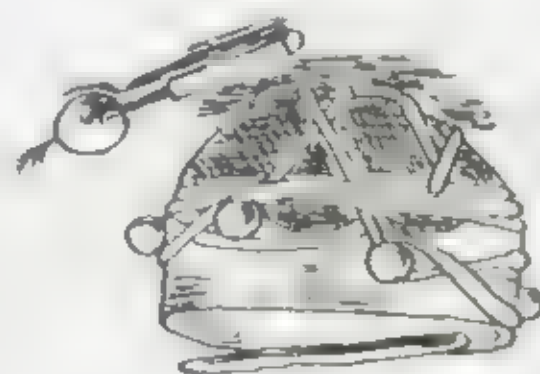

Although the Indians were unable to pull out a victory for the homecoming game against Warrenton, the dance following proved to be a great success. Music was provided by Mack's Creek, from St. Louis. King and queen candidates were selected from each class. Senior class representatives were Keith Leadley and Teresa Hopke. Juniors chose Bobby Stroker and Mary Arndt. Richard Johnson and Kathy Hillebrand were selected from the Sophomore Class. Candidates for the Freshman Class were Joel Zimmer and Brenda Branstetter. Senior candidates, Keith and Teresa, were crowned by last year's royalty, Diana Robinson and Steve Breneman.

To Sub-State

Varsity girls had an outstanding season with an overall record of 19-4. After capturing second in the Hannibal Tourney, third in the Highland Tourney, and first in Conference and Regiona; Contests. The Indians Maidens, after an upset, shared the title of Conference Champs, with Clopton an Emo rival. The maidens fell short in the substate game against the top ranked team, Visitation, in state 50-43, which happened to be the closest game the state champs faced the entire season.

For the Van-Far Varsity it was a disappointing season with a 4 and 20 record. The Indians missed a trophy twice losing the consolation finals to Kirksville in the Highland Tournament and to Troy in the Bowling Green Tourney. In the Regional Tournament the Indians lost a tough game to Centralia 64-62. This was the closest any team came to Centralia in the regionals. On the other hand the junior varsity had an outstanding season with a record of 12 and 3. They played the last few games without 3 starters who moved to the varsity.

With Bob Groff as head coach and Pat LoPiccolo as assistant coach, the Indians battled to a 2-7-1 record. Much effort was put into each practice preparing for the week's game. Van-Far defense was outstanding week after week, allowing only 150 points against them all season. Several members of the team received honorable mention for All Conference and Rodney Nolan made First Team All Conference.

Bettering The School Is Their Job

The people who are responsible for the management of the Van-Far School are the board of directors. These six members work together to improve the school. Once a month they have open meetings for citizens to attend and make suggestions. Their desire is to educate the majority with a minimum of difficulty. Some decisions may not seem fair to all, but the members must rise above partisanship.

Students Develop Skills

The practical arts offers much to the student who desires to achieve some basics of the outside world. Business has different subjects to offer for each grade—basic business, typing, business, administration, Accounting I and II, shorthand, and office practice.

Industrial arts got off to a slow start. The absence of a teacher until the second semester prevented students from enrolling in classes which interest them.

Physical education is useful in keeping your body in shape. Games, yoga, and dancing are a few of the subjects taught.

The Necessities Of Life

Home economics, agriculture, and adult education are the Vocational Arts offered. Home Ec Classes are basic home ec, family living, child development, foods, and clothing. In Vo Ag I, greenhands learn to keep records and study different parts of the animals. Other Ag Classes offer more advanced study. Adult education includes basic and advance subjects. The classes of bookkeeping, typing, tole painting, basic education, microwave cooking, and men and women's physical education are filled.

Expressing

Whether singing, playing a musical instrument, painting, or acting out a play, you can express your own creativity through the field of fine arts. Each fine art has its own way of presenting its achievements. Painting, sculpting, and drawing are displayed in the art showcase. Band and vocal music show their talents through marching and concerts. Those in dramatics wanting to express their abilities can be in contests and senior play.

Except After C

Each Language Arts Class has its own distinctive way of bettering the students' English knowledge. Basic English, which every one must take, gives each student the fundamentals and prepares him for other elective classes. In expository writing each student learns techniques used by other writers and then puts them into use. Speech Class teaches the student how to speak better in given situations. English is still a very important necessity to survive in today's society.

Students Use

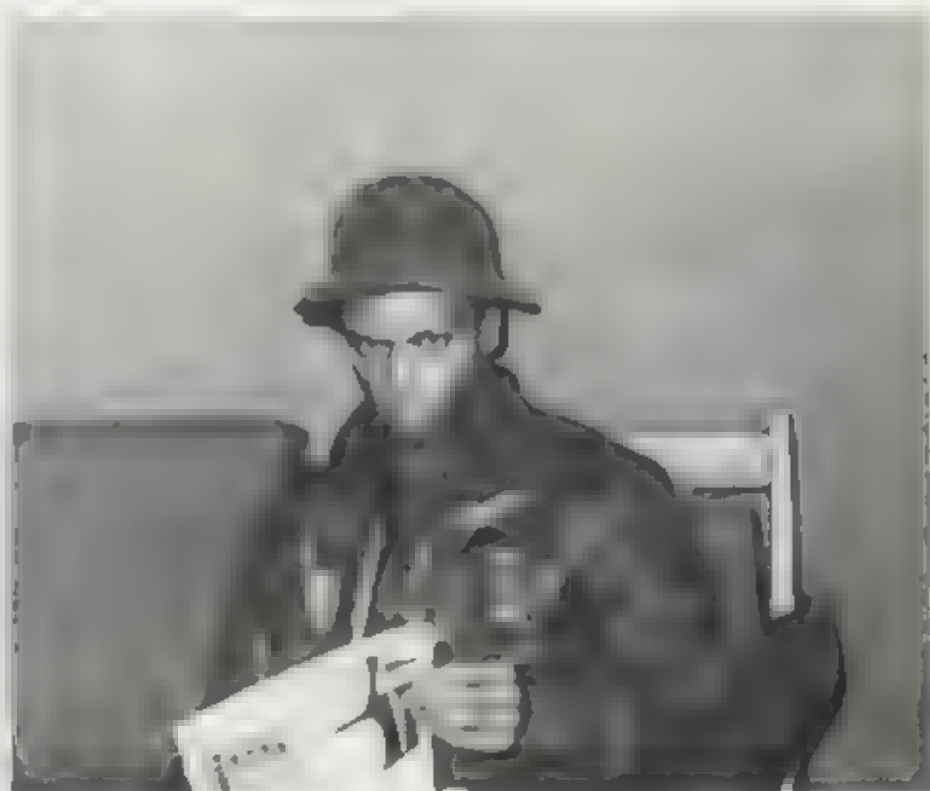

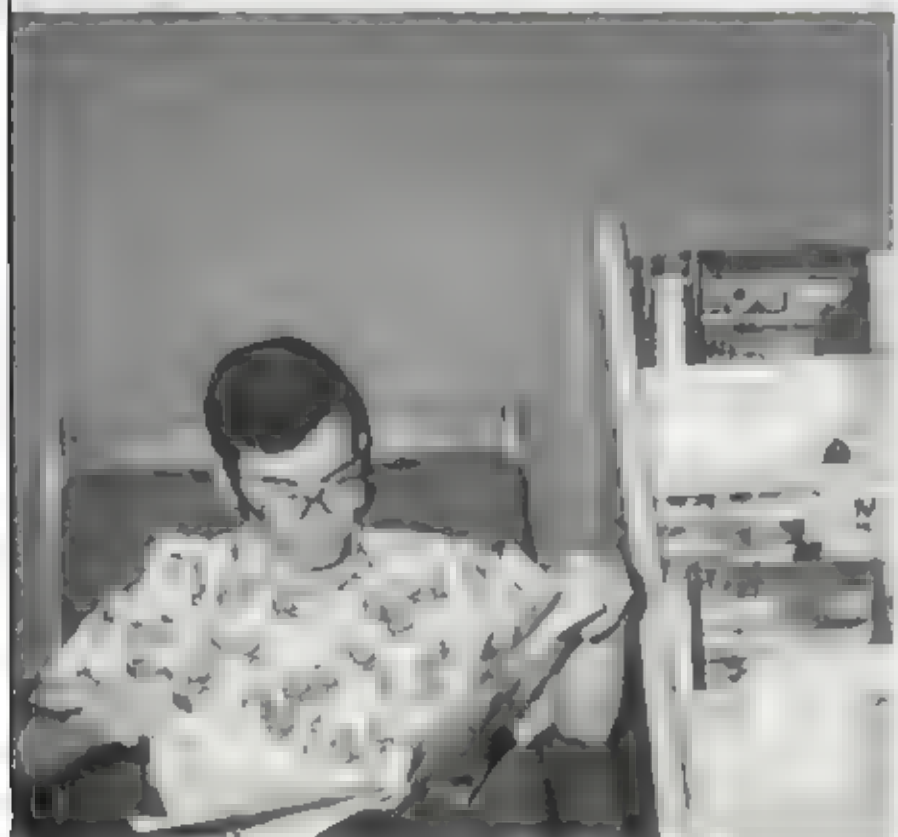

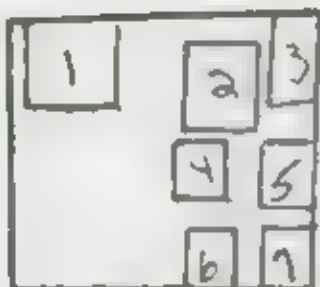

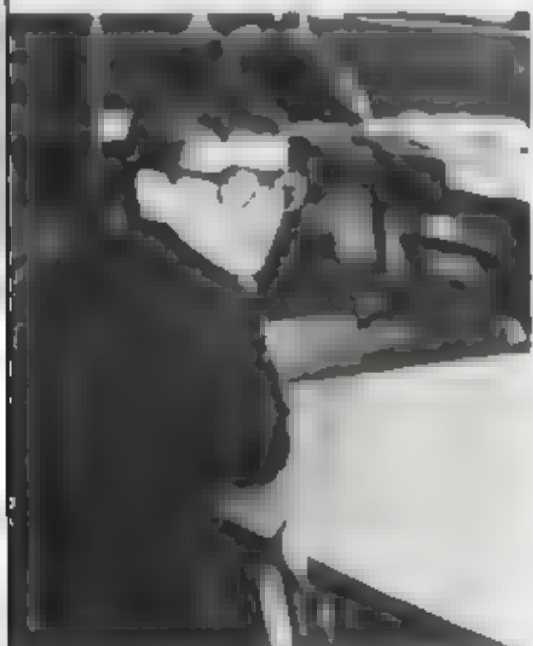

The busiest room in the school is the library. Its shelves are lined with books and magazines to help each student. Reference books seem to be the most used as students usually have at least one report. Magazines are very handy when something is to be done on current issues.

Some people frown on teacher's aides. They say the teachers are getting paid for the job and the teachers should do their own work. What they don't realize, is that the students volunteer for these jobs. They benefit from being teacher's aides. They learn many different typing techniques through typing stencils and masters. Student aides vary from practical arts to vocational arts to fine arts. Jobs in each division are grading papers, running errands, and assisting the coaches in preparing for upcoming ballgames.

For the students who work in the offices it is not an easy hour. There is always something to be done. Absentee slips are collected, as well as answering any phone calls. When something is to be typed they are usually asked to do it. Most of the rest of their time is used to duplicate materials. Their work is appreciated.

Creativity

Originality is an important objective in the publishing of the Redskin. Editor Ruth Adamson chose to center this year's Redskin around the theme, "Spirit".

Everyone works very hard and diligently to meet the deadlines at which specific pages have to be in. Layout Editors assign particular pictures they want taken for their pages. They also assign the Copy Editors the amount of copy needed for each page. Art Editors keep busy drawing for both the Redskin and Scoop Staffs.

Meet The

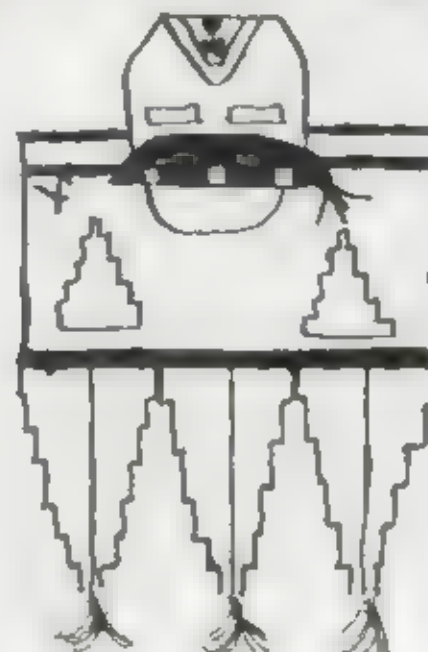

Students worked diligently in order to put out a top rate paper with news of the current activities at school. Each student is required to prepare articles for each edition. A printed paper is published bi-weekly for school and appears as a page in the Vandalla Leader the following week. The Scoop is under the supervision of the editor, Robyn Trabue, and sponsor Mrs. Marie Miller.

"Healthy, Babies, Chance or Choice" was chosen as the National FHA Project. The organization strove to teach others, as well as themselves, the importance of prenatal care. During FHA Week, they prepared a faculty breakfast, observed Teacher Appreciation Day, and promoted the national project. Presenting the style show and holding a road block for the Heart Fund were additional projects.

Those Who Excell

Two organizations helped the school to become a little more colorful. They were Pep Band and Art Club. Pep Band members and director, Mr. Bert Cowley, put forth much effort to make the atmosphere a little brighter by playing popular tunes between boys games and at halftime. Art Club, under the leadership of Mr. Bill Lybarger, met every Monday night in the art room. They used this time to work on paintings, ceramics, and sculptures.

"Music is a universal language and love is a key to peace, hope, understanding, and living in harmony." These lyrics, taken from a song, help to express what vocal music is. The students enrolled in the vocal concerts practiced every day to improve their pitch and tone. Much time and effort was put forth in order to perform in the Christmas and Spring Concerts. They also took part in the Dinner Concert.

3. Here we go INDIANS here we go! 4. Tweet tweet tweet.

This year's marching band had a new attraction, Mr. Craig Thompson, assistant drum major. He helped senior majorette, Miss Joni Williams in each appearance. Maneuvers, drills, and line movements were a few of the directions called by him. Craig will have full charge of the band next year.

About Face 1-2

The highlight of the season came at Hannibal Band Festival where the band participated in the parade and the evening performance. The band also marched at each home football game for the local fans. The homecoming game was rained out making one less performance for the year.

An Extra

People fail to realize the time and efforts put forth by the Chiefs Band Auxiliary Units. Each remained after school once a week to prepare their routines for the next performance.

A few improvements were made among the units this year. Each individual group was provided with similar styled tiaras. The majorettes received new black uniforms with gold sequins.

One of the important events of the night was the initiation of the greenhands. Various pranks were pulled on them such as squeezing rotten tomatoes and crawling through a hog catcher.

Barnwarming king and queen, Tim Lowrance and Nancy McDonald, were crowned after refreshments were served. Other queen candidates were Teresa Hopke, Lisa Thompson, Kathi Williams, and Debbie Wilson. Paul Carlson, Keith Ladley, Dwayne McDonald, and John McDowell were the remaining king candidates.

They are then invited to attend the athletic banquet in the season that they reigned. A queen is chosen at the banquets.

The crowded gymnasium was full of excitement on May 15, 1978. Parents, relatives, and friends waited for their special person to walk on stage to receive a diploma. Commencement is a serious time for each senior. It symbolizes the final change from childhood to adulthood. Benita Baker and Ruth Adamson, valedictorians, and Mike Pritchett, salutatorian, gave speeches.

Learning Is

Socializing

Students have more chances to participate in different activities. Clubs and organizations occupy their time. For a change of pace, student council sponsored assemblies, with the help of the cheerleaders at those devoted to pep. Social life was important to these young adults.

The game draws closer and closer to the end; both teams are engaged in a nip and tuck battle. The air is heavy with tenseness. Chants and cheers come from the cheerleaders on the sideline. They are an important part at each game. Moral support and enthusiasm were aroused by the cheerleaders who helped to boost the team to victory. The six cheerleaders and two alternates performed routines combined with yells and jumps.

We Want A Victory

The battle cry and V-I-C-T-O-R-Y are just two of the wellknown chants of the Junior High Pep Club. For uniforms this year, each member purchased a black tee-shirt with an Indian printed on it. They had one project a bake sale. It was stated by Miss Teresa Joller, that hopefully the funds will be used to purchase new cheerleading uniforms.

F.H.A. Puts Emphasis On Health

Sewing and cooking are not the only projects of the Junior High Future Homemakers of America. This year's chapter developed a program on health which was presented before the junior high. The program was based on a game show composed and written by the members. Regional meeting, Christmas caroling, and Fun Night were other activities in which they participated.

A Band Members Dream

Receiving the Director's Award is the dream of every Warriors Band member. Each plays to the best of his ability for Mr. Bert Cowley. Through their playing he decides who is to receive the honor. At the Warriors Band Spring Concert, the Director's Award is given to the most deserving player. The member who is honored, gets a small, but beautiful plaque, and his name is inscribed on the large plaque at the middle school.

Achieve Basics

To be a musician one must be energetic, ambitious, and patient. These qualities are needed by the sixth graders entering the world of music. In band, each member becomes talented only through determination, continuous practice, and hard work. Every student learns quickly that he is not only responsible to himself, but other members of the band.

Under the direction of Mr. Bert Cowley, the band strives to perfect their performance for the Spring Dinner Concert, which is their only appearance of the year. Next year the members will be faced with another challenge, as they move on to the Warriors Band.

Practice To Improve

The Junior High Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Bert Cowley, practiced daily to improve their vocal abilities. They also began harmonizing by singing in parts. Performances were made by the students at the Dinner and Spring Concerts.

More Work

As the fifth graders stepped off their buses to the pavement leading to the middle school they realized that they were entering a world quite different from that they had known. The new atmosphere of the middle school encouraged a new form of study. The comfortable surroundings made it easy to work. The students are now more responsible for their actions. One disadvantage for the fifth graders was no more recess.

Underclassmen With

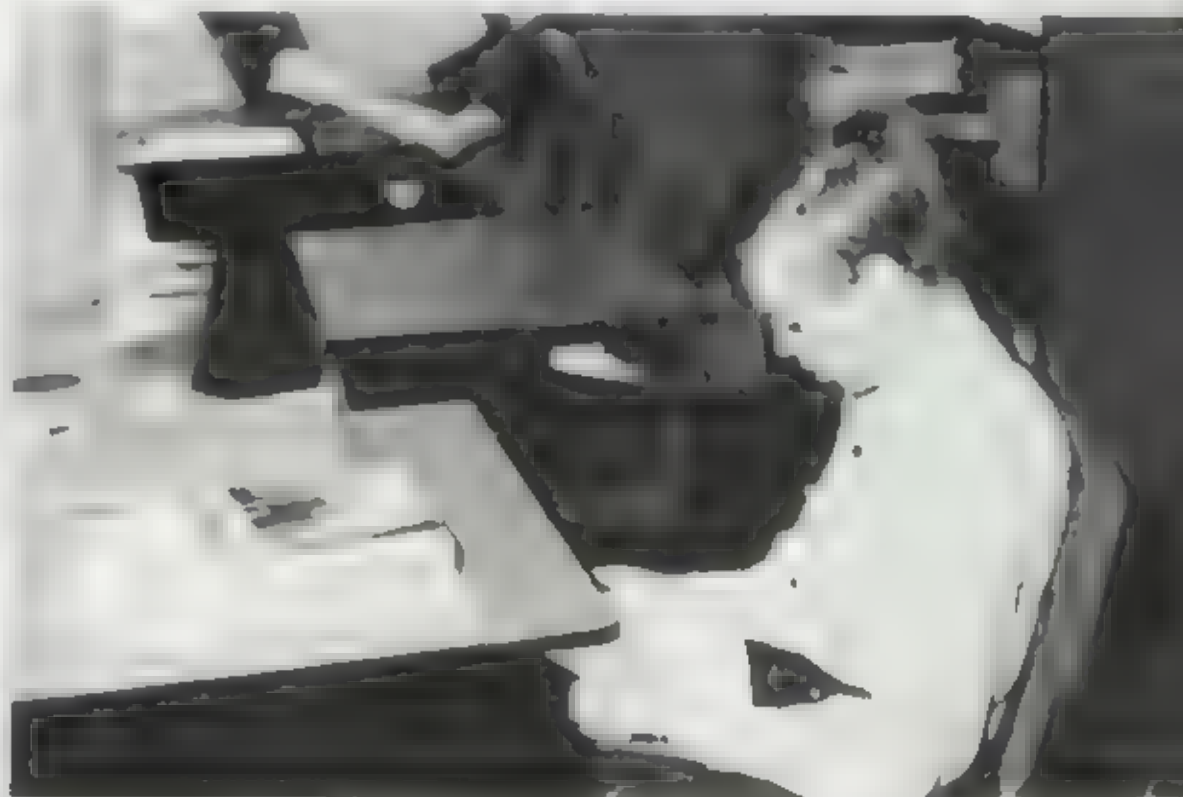

Big Responsibilities

1. I don't think I know the answer to that. 2. Hey you ... 3. I know I saw the answer in here somewhere. 4. That can't be the right answer. 5. I hope the teacher doesn't see This Note. 5. At least the teacher THINKS we're busy. 7. Hurry up before she comes back in here!

The sixth graders are given more responsibility in preparing them for junior high. Each student moves from class to class as in junior high, but the privilege of choosing classes is just given to the upper classmen. There are not as many activities, but everyone feels he has more freedom. Each student still dreams of junior high and the added activities.

The First

Being promoted to the seventh grade isn't such a big step to take, but the students still enjoy being referred to as junior high students rather than grade school kids. Emphasis is still put on the basics, although electives are offered.

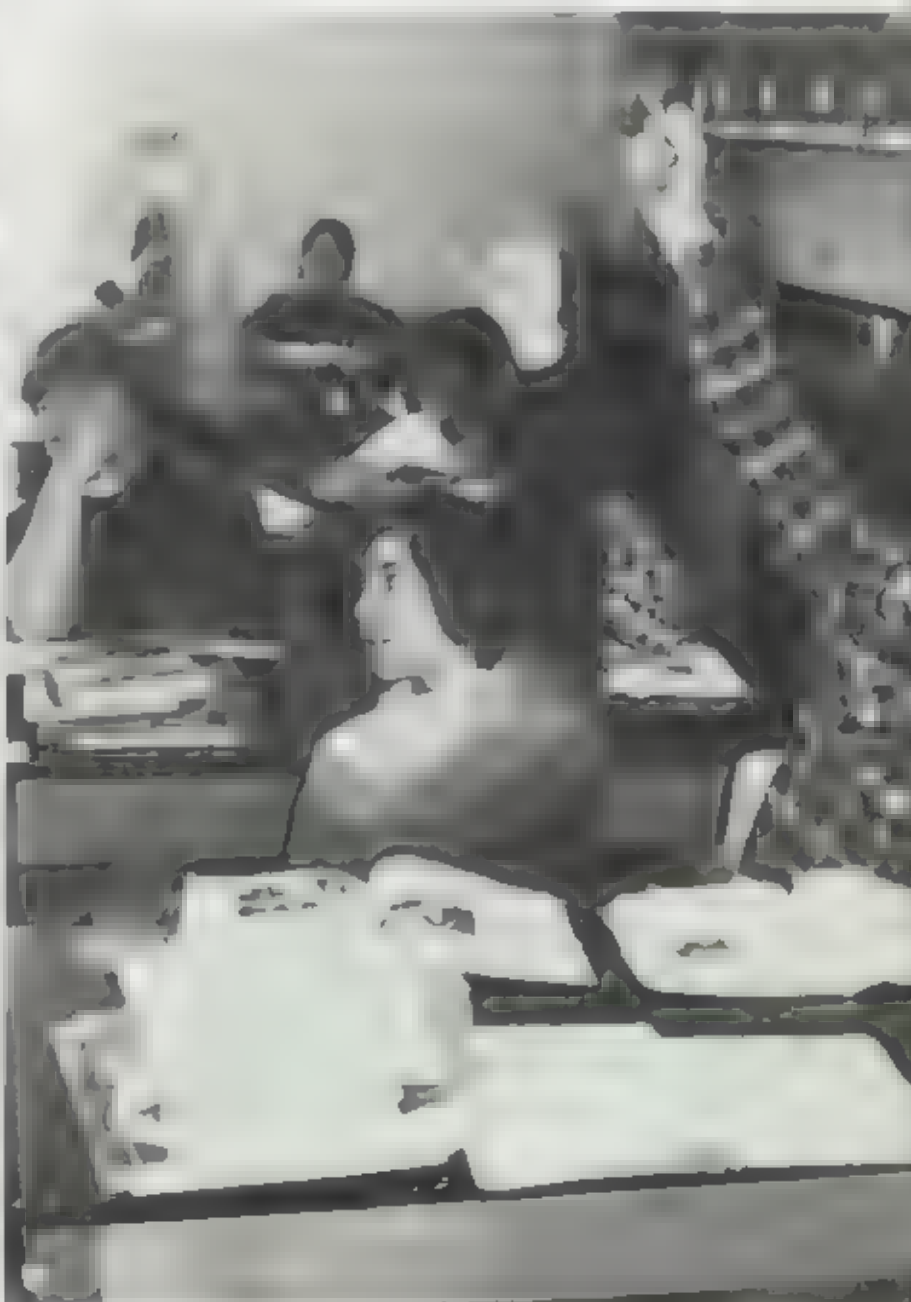

Of Six Steps

1. I think I'm being spied on. 2. I can read with my eyes closed! 3. This is the hardest class I have all day. 4. Don't bother me now, I'm going to answer this question. 5. I don't Believe this. 6. I don't understand any of this. 7. Look over here, we All know the answer.

Moving

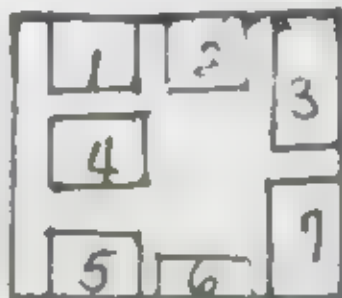

On Up

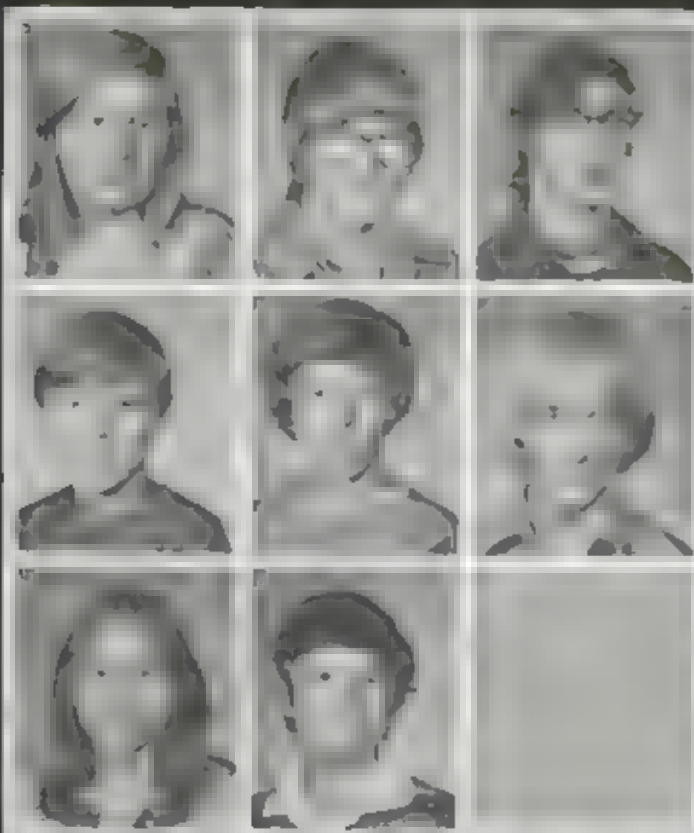

The class of '82 will soon become another addition to the Van-Far High School after they graduate from the eighth grade. Junior high has prepared them for the academic and extra-curricular activities of high school. They will soon be leaving the middle school and childhood memories behind, in exchange for higher education and the excitement of becoming a freshman.

1. Did he really say That? 2. I don't believe my eyes. 3. Step over Here and say that. 4. I'm being a good little boy, like always. 5. I said, I love you and I asked you if you loved me? 6. There is a bug in her hair. 7. OK who glued these pages together.

For the Junior High students assemblies were held for education, fun, and school spirit. A film was shown by Fantastic Caverns to tell students about the formations of caves. Student council acted out five short comedies, and the cheerleaders performed during pep assemblies. At Christmas a gong show was presented by the students.

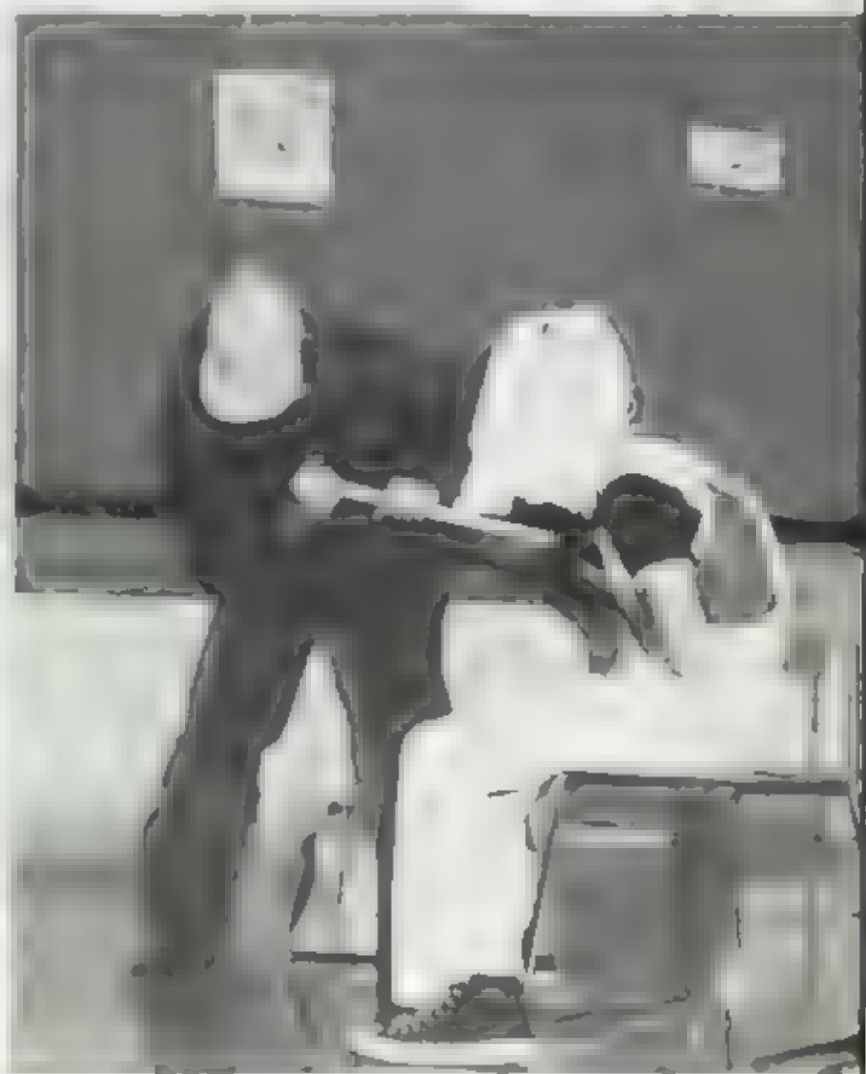

School Spirit

1. A pickin' and a grinin'. 2. Do you think anyone knows we are stuck together? 3. What are you looking at? I always sit like this! 4. A difference of opinion. 5. I wonder if they know it is caught on my foot. 6. Pat McCollum — winner in the 1978 Yo Yo Contest. 7. Note my physique. 8. Did you hear about ... 9. A new method of heart operation.

The spaghetti supper is an exciting event held every year for the students of Junior high. Attending the supper were students, their parents, and the members of the faculty. The Junior high student council sponsored the supper which the cooks at the middle school prepared. Students danced to the music of their favorite recording artists. The purpose of the supper is to help students, parents, and teachers become better acquainted.
